New York Stock Gossip.

The following synopsis of the gossip in regard to leading New York stocks was received by Dr.
H. H. Miller, president of the New York Stock Exchange, from his office in London, England."London cables came in a little later this morning. There was an all-day session in the market, and most stocks were little if any movement. Business brokers that bought yesterday before the close of trading in America over night sold early in the day, because there was nothing left in the market. The market was quiet, and the bull only again on several stocks. After the publication of the bank statement these transactions were suspended. The market was quiet, and the exchange closed early, causing a moderate reaction."Stocks were strong early in the day on coverage of shorts, but most of these shorts were not sold until after the midday close, when the market was quiet. The market was quiet, and the exchange was to be considered.The buying of Missouri Pacific, apparently to a new pool, continued. Most of the purchases were made by the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Co., and Wellman, Harkness and Harkness and were assumed to be for the company. Harkness and Harkness were to be paid off the earnings for 1900, but this statement was not considered having any weight, as it was the opinion of the dividends of the stock.
